

Consent to international data transfer

The legal basis for the transfer is your consent pursuant to Article 49 (1) (a) GDPR. Please note that any access to the data by US authorities may potentially be unrestricted and that EU citizens may not be able to assert effective legal remedies against such access. We have no influence over these governmental measures and therefore provide you with this information for your decision.